This morning we will depart via motor coach for an excursion to visit the only tropical rainforest in the US National Forest System, El Yunque. Named after the good Indian spirit, Yuquiya and spanning 28,000 acres, this amazing national treasure reaches an elevation of 3,624 feet and receives over 100 billion gallons of rainfall each year. The beautiful, lush foliage, cascading waterfalls and cool shaded pools are home to many species of wildlife, including the Puerto Rican Parrot and the elusive but always around (just listen) tiny inch-long frog, the Coqui, found only in Puerto Rico.

Returning in the early afternoon, there is plenty of time to enjoy the beach, pool, and Puerto Rican specialties for lunch. Plan to join us in the Washington Women and Wine Hospitality Suite, before dinner on your own

Saturday, October 29, 2005

This morning, we travel to the south side of San Juan Harbor to the beautifully manicured grounds of the Bacardi Rum Distillery, the world's largest distiller of natural spirits. Thanks to the hospitality of Bacardi USA, we will enjoy a private tour of the distillery, including a history of the Bacardi Family and Corporation, a visit to the Bacardi replica of a 1920 Prohibition era Cuban cocktail lounge where the Bacardi cocktails, "Cuba Libre", "Daiquiri" and Mojito Cubano originated. Watch them created, sample and find out how they got their names. Continue on to Old San Juan for personal sightseeing and shopping or back to the Caribe Hilton for some beach time.

Our Farewell Dinner @ LaCasona

Our Farewell Dinner will take place at La Casona, a gracefully restored Spanish mansion, one of the most beautiful dining venues in Puerto Rico. We will enjoy a wonderful Spanish and international repast and visit the underground wine cellar. After dinner, it's back to the hotel for dancing or on to Condado Beach to visit one of San Juan's famous casinos.

Sunday, October 30, 2005

Our visit ends too soon! Stop by the Washington Women and Wine Hospitality Suite for a continental breakfast and trip favors. If possible, plan to take a early evening flight to enjoy a full day of relaxation and some last minute shopping.
